V. INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS MODEL

VI. INSTITUTIONAL EFFECTIVENESS PROCESS

Institutional Effectiveness at Lamar State College - Orange (LSC-O) is an ongoing process by which LSC-O, its divisions, degrees and certificate programs, and its administrative units gather, analyze, and use data to ascertain how well the college is accomplishing its mission and goals. Assessment results are used to make continuous improvements throughout the institution.

Mission and Institution-Wide Planning

LSC-O's mission drives the college's Institutional Effectiveness (IE) process. The mission generates institutional goals that become the basis for operational plans. At every level, planning is tied to resource allocation and includes a defined assessment and evaluation procedure. Assessment and evaluation results are used to measure the extent to which the institution fulfills its mission and provide the starting point for the next planning cycle.

Annually, the Executive Planning Committee reviews and analyzes the strategic plan. The mission statement, goals, and outcomes are instrumental components of the college's strategic plan. Once the mission statement is reviewed and updated (as needed), the institution's goals and associated outcomes are reviewed, analyzed, and edited as needed.

Once these and other portions of the strategic plan have been approved by the Executive Planning Committee, the Campus Planning Council accepts/endorse the plan.

Outcome-Based Assessment & Resource Allocation

The strategic plan becomes the foundation from which the Administrative Outcome Assessment Plans and related activities are built. Each Administrative Assessment Outcome Plan should three measurable outcomes, the expected level of achievement for each outcome, the strategies to utilize in achieving the outcomes, the assessment measures utilized, and associated budget impacts. Because the strategic plan is wide reaching, the president also identifies a critical focus for each fiscal year. This critical focus supports the strategic plan but adds additional emphasis to an area of special need. The first outcome of each Administrative Assessment Outcome Plan is earmarked for the president's critical focus initiative.

The implementation of any plan is contingent upon the availability of resources. Annually, the Vice President of Finance and Operations schedules budget hearings to allocate funds for each administrative unit once the Campus Planning Council has met. Administrative Outcome Assessment Plans are living documents which are implemented at the beginning of the fiscal year starting in September, updated periodically, and completed in August.

Program Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

LSC-O requires that faculty in each instructional program define expected student learning outcomes for that program and devise methods for determining if students are achieving those outcomes. Division and/or program directors meet with faculty and engage in a collaborative process of identifying the primary knowledge, skills, and values that are expected of successful program graduates. This typically involves reviewing course requirements and identifying specific student learning artifacts (tests, essays, projects, etc.) that demonstrate mastery of the program learning outcomes (PLOs).

A peer reviewer process is utilized to gauge course-level student artifacts against PLO rubrics. Reviewer feedback and assessment results provide faculty with critical information to make informed decisions regarding the improvement of instruction, practices, outcomes, curricula, and/or assessment tools in order to enhance student learning. The PLO Assessment Schedule is located in the Appendix.

Program Reviews & Program Review Follow-Ups

LSC-O mandates that each instructional program undergo a comprehensive program review every four years. The review is conducted under the purview of the Curriculum Committee. The purpose of the review is to determine if the program is indeed meeting the objectives outlined in the institutional mission statement. The program review process focuses on curriculum and course content, physical and financial resources, faculty qualifications and preparation, student demand, and graduate performance. Table 1 illustrates the Program Review & Follow-Up Schedule.

General Education Assessment

General Education at LSC-O is the broad-based foundational course of study that is essential for all disciplines that develop intellectual competencies needed for students to acquire the breadth of knowledge which is the touchstone for life-long learning and success. According to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB), “Given the rapid evolution of necessary knowledge and skills and the need to take into account global, national, state, and local cultures, the core curriculum must ensure that students will develop the essential knowledge and skills they need to be successful in college, in a career, in their communities, and in life.” The state-wide core objectives are (1) critical thinking skills, (2) communication skills, (3) empirical and quantitative skills, (4) teamwork, (5) social responsibility, and (6) personal responsibility. In order to assess student learning of these core objectives, LSC-O’s General Education Assessment Committee has chosen to utilize four assessment measures to gauge the extent to which students are meeting the core objectives. These assessment measures are six general education rubrics, the Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency (CAAP), the Community College Survey of Student Engagement (CCSSE), and the LSC – O Exit Interview. Table 2 illustrates the General Education Assessment Timetable.

Assessment Measures	Assessment Semesters

Supplementary Career and Technical Education Assessment

Career and technical education (CTE) programs present opportunities for assessing effectiveness that are not available to academic transfer programs. Because these career-oriented programs prepare students for immediate entry into the workforce, data is available regarding such things as professional certification, job placement, and skills mastery. LSC-O uses the self-evaluation required by the Carl D. Perkins Grant to measure itself against the six Perkins' core indicators annually. Campus data can easily be compared to Perkins' standards and to state averages for other CTE programs. This comparison is useful in developing plans for program improvement.

Community Service Assessment

The purpose of the LSC-O Community Service Assessment Team is to address and coordinate the process of evaluating LSC-O's community service activities that support economic development, promote cultural engagement, and/or encourage cooperation with area school districts. A Community Service Assessment Form will be utilized to document the various activities that faculty, staff, and/or students volunteer for and/or participate. Information from this form will be analyzed in order to assess that the college is meeting its institutional mission component concerning service to the community and making improvements in our efforts.

VII. FISCAL AND ECONOMIC CONSIDERATIONS

A. PUBLIC POLICY DECISIONS THAT WILL EFFECT BUDGETING AND CAMPUS PLANNING

1. Perkins funding supplements Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs. Changes in federal support may impact the Perkins Grant.
2. Students will bear increasingly larger portions of the cost of higher education.
3. Federal support for financial aid will probably decrease or not maintain its current level of support.
4. Modifications in the formula funding system will provide modest state financial assistance to LSC-O. Performance-based funding will continue to be a part of the appropriation process and will supplement the formula system. Proposed changes in state funding and a statewide budget crisis may negatively impact state funding for several years.
5. State exemption: unfunded mandates and waivers may negatively impact funding.
6. Public State Policy:
  - Exemption and Waivers
  - Students
  - Performance Funding
  - Formula Funding
  - Distance Education and Competitive Preparatory Enterprises

B. PRIVATE/LOCAL FUNDING

1. The competition for philanthropic funds will intensify.
2. Local funds and external funds will become a more significant portion of the campus budget.

C. INSTITUTIONAL COSTS

1. College preparatory efforts will continue to absorb a significant portion of institutional resources.
2. A scarcity of faculty and professional staff in select fields will increase the unit cost of instruction.

D. SERVICE POPULATION DEMOGRAPHICS

1. The number of high school graduates in Orange County will remain stable through 2018 with some shifting among school districts.
2. The number of potential students with developmental and learning disabilities will remain relatively high, and the number who enrolls in higher education will continue to increase.
3. The population of Orange County will show a slight decline through 2018.
4. The population of Texas will increase approximately 15% by 2018 with the minority population increasing more rapidly than the population as a whole.
5. The unemployment rate in Orange County has exceeded between 3-4% higher than state through 2018.
6. Per capita income in Orange County will increase slightly but remain moderately below the state average through 2018.
7. The cultural diversity of the population in the immediate region will continue to remain homogeneous as compared to state and national populations.
9. Welfare and policy changes for residents receiving public assistance will lead to increase in enrollment of under-prepared non-traditional students.
